

February 24 & 25 Second Sunday of Lent

God invites us to listen more closely to his beloved Son.

This is my beloved Son. Listen to him.

We all know we should listen to Christ. We have all been told we should do as God commands. There is a prayer that begins, "Father, I abandon myself into your hands. Do with me what you will ..."

And then we have the story of Abraham and Isaac. Abraham didn't squirm. God wanted Abraham to see how he would provide for him – God wanted Abraham to know that he could trust every command given by him, because he would always act, would always provide, would always love him.

Abraham trusts in God's goodness. This goodness is highlighted in our second reading from the Letter to the Romans. We are reminded that God, who did not spare his own Son, but handed him over for us all, will give us everything we need along with his Son.

Our God did not hold back anything, not even his beloved Son, to lead us to the goodness he desires for us. In the Transfiguration, he shows us the glory that awaits us when we live and love in service of him.

And this God is present here today. In this sacred season, God is inviting us to listen more closely to his beloved Son who invites us to take and eat, to receive the gift of his body, poured out for us in this Eucharist. This is the love that leads us through our Lenten journey and through our lives. May we, in this sacrament, grow in trust and learn to follow Christ's voice in all we do.

Lenten Meditation Second Week of Lent:

In what ways am I creating the time and space to listen to (not just hear) the voice of Jesus? In my prayer and study of God's word, am I challenged by his teaching? Energized by his vision of the kingdom of God? More committed to living differently?

Prayer:

Jesus, beloved Son of God, condition my heart to listen intently for your voice. Draw me into your vision of the victory of life over death.

Catholic Relief Services (CRS) Rice Bowl: A Story of Hope From Uganda Adolf and his wife, Florence, are farmers in Akwangagwel, Uganda. The couple is dedicated to fighting hunger so that their family and others in their community can build thriving lives. They do this by farming, which helps their family to eat three nutritious meals a day, and by assisting others in their community to grow successful crops. In the area where they live, the climate is very dry. Lately, the rainy season has been coming later than it used to. And sometimes, it rains too much all at once and causes flooding. "It rains so heavily and destroys things," Adolf says. "So, the goodness of rain is taken away." In addition, people come through their community and steal their food or tools. It makes it difficult to farm with these challenges—and that means food is harder to come by. To overcome these obstacles, Adolf and Florence joined a Catholic Relief Services program where they learned new farming methods that help them grow crops even when it is hot and dry. They planted seeds that grow quickly, so that they can still have vegetables to harvest, even if there isn't much rain. This provides enough food to eat and to sell at the market for extra income. Because of the successful life that he and Florence have built, they are sharing the knowledge they learned with their neighbors. Help CRS Rice Bowl build communities.
